OVERVIEW

Steve Lamon has significant experience in complex construction, business, and real estate litigation in all levels of California state courts. Steve has more than 38 years of legal experience, including negotiating and drafting contracts for public and private sector clients, and resolving myriad types of civil disputes, including both the prosecution and defense of claims. Steve's emphasis is in handling business and contract-related cases in a broad range of areas, including construction, real estate, landlord/tenant, partnership dissolution, and corporate lawsuits of all kinds.

Steve previously owned the Lamon Law Office in Yuba City, California. Before opening his own law office in 2005, Steve was an associate and later a shareholder in the prominent Sacramento firm of McDonough, Holland & Allen for over 13 years.

Prior to that, he was an associate attorney in two prominent Bay Area law firms. Steve has been involved in thousands of cases and over a hundred trials and arbitrations, and has been successful in both defending cases and in winning multi-million-dollar judgments.

Steve was selected the "Best Attorney" in the greater Northern California area by a poll conducted by the Appeal Democrat newspaper, and was also listed among Northern California's "Super Lawyers" in a poll conducted by San Francisco Magazine. He was also listed in Sacramento Magazine's "Top Lawyers" list in 2016.

Steve has spoken on issues concerning public and private contracting and construction for the Cities of Yuba City, Marysville, and Tracy, and before the Valley Contractors Exchange, the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce, and the Yuba Sutter Chamber of Commerce.

Steve earned his B.A. from the University of California, Berkeley, with distinction, and his J.D. from UC College of the Law, San Francisco (formerly the University of California, Hastings College of the Law). Steve also studied abroad for two years, with a year near Amsterdam, Holland, and a second year in Cairo, Egypt.
